Newport, R. L. Aug. 20.—Richard Norris Williams won featility on the championship court at many law from the pit for his pien, and Maurice Evans McLoughlin, from whom Williams wen featilitions the championship court at many law for the finality to his shot that used to hard from the pit for his points. But there was something missing who ten the full volley and shooting it deftly across the court out of Niles's reach. Another furious adrivations driving due followed and Niles, who had been skinning dangerously close to the net throughout the match, crashed the ball into the barrier and lost the last game at love, giving McLoughlin the second set at 10—8, and bruiging the match even once more.

The stands broke forth into wild applause as the men stopped to mop their faces and drink from the pitchers of oatmend water by the umpire's chair.

McLoughlin had shown only flashes of the form that made him the hero of the Bavis cup matches at Forest Hills last August. He mastered his tendency to stay in the back of the court and went to the net frequently for his points. But there was something missing when he got there. There was not the finality to his shot that used to thrill the Californian's audiences in years gone by.

The Red Chance.

The Reds, of course, are still long shots. Very few give EVEN NAPIER WINS them even an outside chance. But what chance was Boston given last summer to overhaul the Giants and then beat the Mackmen four straight? About 1 in 4,000. Baseball is, even upon the average, a complex institution. Robert Morris—"Financier of the Revolution" TT HAS BEEN SAID the three very great men of our War for Independence were Washington, Franklin and Morris. In the history of mankind no man ever had a more arduous commission than did Morris in financing the armies of Washington. The credit of the nation was practically valueless, and time after time it was the personal credit of Morris which brought forth the money. The financial means raised from his own private resources made the victory at Trenton possible. When Washington proposed the capture of Lord Cornwallis and his entire army, it was from Morris, the patriot and private citizen, and not from the treasury of the Confederated States from which the money came. Thus Washington's last great victory was made possible, and the long and bloody struggle for National Independence brought to an end. Morris was the first to suggest our present system of National banks—the best banking system that any nation has ever known. He was the first American to send a ship forth flying the Stars and Stripes. Like Franklin he signed both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. He was very hospitable, and whenever Washington visited Philadelphia he was the guest of Morris. He was ever a moderate user of light wines and barley brews, and opposed Prohibition Laws, which make the many suffer for the faults of the few. For 58 years Anheuser-Busch have been brewing the kind of honest barley-malt and Saazer hop brews which the wisdom of Morris knew make for real temperance. To-day at the home of BUDWEISER 7500 people are daily required to meet the natural public demand. BUDWEISER'S everincreasing popularity comes from quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor.
